JUDGE BRUCE IS DEAD

Prominent Citizen of Louisville Dies Unexpectedly Today.

Sun Life Declares Another Dividend—Youtsey Claims He Has Told It All.

BEVERIDGE IS THREATENED

JUDGE BRUCE DEAD.

Louisville, Jan. 22.—Judge Horatio Washington Bruce, general counsel of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, a member of the Confederate congress from Kentucky and one of Louisville's most honored citizens, died unexpectedly this morning at 8:30 o'clock at his home 1500 Third avenue. For over a year Judge Bruce had been in failing health suffering from the infirmities incident to old age.

DECLARE ANOTHER DIVIDEND.

Louisville, Jan. 22.—The Sun Life Insurance company has declared another cash dividend on its capital stock of $200,000. The amount of this dividend is $200 per share, or $400,000 making $800,000 that has been distributed to stockholders within a week. Action of the directors was taken at meeting held yesterday afternoon, as was the case when the former dividend was declared, and an effort was made to preserve secrecy as to amount.

YOUTSEY TELLS IT ALL.

Frankfort, Jan. 22.—"I am voluntarily, freely, fully and frankly telling all that I know in connection with the assassination of William Goebel."

So wrote Henry E. Youtsey in a letter to his father-in-law, Judge C.S. French at Winchester, touching the evidence he gave before the Franklin county grand jury.

THREATENS SENA-

TOR BEVERIDGE.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Senator Beveridge has been threatened with bodily injury on account of his opposition to the statehood bill. In his mail this morning he received an unsigned letter from Arizona, declaring that one would be sent to Washington to "blow his block off" if he did not cease his anti-statehood efforts. He turned the letter over to the postoffice inspectors.

THEY BEGIN TO COME

Promoter Hoss Arrives to Confer With the Carnival Committee

Representatives of the Bostock and Gaskill Companies Expected Next Week.

THINGS BEGIN TO HUM

In a few days active work will begin towards Paducah's spring carnival which is this year to be given by the Paducah Carnival Association.

Today Mr. Bert Hoss, a promoter, representing the Layton Mighty Carnival company, arrived to confer with the executive committee of the association.

In a few days Mr. H. B. Potter, of the Bostock-Ferari company, will arrive. Mr. Conley, who had charge of the preparations year before last, will come to represent himself, and his company, and Mr. Gaskill will arrive to represent the Gaskill attractions.

The local association can do nothing definite until the incorporation of the company is complete, which will not be until the papers are sent to Frankfort and returned.

The committees can confer with the representatives of the various attractions, however, and complete much of the preliminary work before hand, and this is what will be done.

All the big carnival companies seem to want to furnish the attractions, which insures Paducah the best. This year there will be something entirely new, and the company that offers the latest and best will probably secure the contract.

The question of where to hold the carnival is one that is destined to cause more or less trouble. The site this year cannot be the same as the past two years, as the public library at Ninth and Broadway now occupies most of the ground formerly used.

No suggestions have been received thus far, however and the question of a location can be settled any time before the time for festivities to begin.

POLICE COURT

Jesse Barnhill Goes to Jail for False Swearing.

Several Women Held for Stealing Coal From the N. C. and St. L.

Judge Sanders held a short session of police court this morning and disposed of the cases in short order.

Jessie Barnhill, colored, was held to answer to the grand jury for false swearing and his bail fixed at $200. There was a fight about one year ago between colored principals and the arrests were made several weeks ago, the parties having been out of the city. Barnhill was a witness in the case and swore falsely, it was charged. A warrant against him was procured and after continuing the case several times Judge Sanders finally refused more time and heard the case today with the above results.

Joe Church, white, who threw a rock through the Chinese laundry wagon window, was fined $5 with no costs.

Sam Lincoln, colored, who stole a stove from Mike Iseman, broke it up and sold the iron to a junk dealer, was held for obtaining money by false pretenses and his bail fixed at $200.

Lillie Bulger and Marie Owens, white, and Lizzie Bell, May Boyd and Nora Irvan, colored, were arraigned for stealing coal from the N. C. and St. L. road. Judge Sanders held them over to the action of the grand jury on a petty larceny charge. They live in the vicinity of Ninth and Hubbs streets and it is alleged stole the coal out of a car.

BOX SOCIAL THIS EVENING.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will give a box social in the lecture room of the church this evening. Everyone is invited to attend, and a pleasant evening is assured them.

PROSPECTS OF AN EXTENSION.

Prospects seem good for an extension of Washington street. Mr. Frank Rieke, who is building a new home at Twentieth street and Washington, is willing, it is understood, to move the site back off the street provided the city will make the extension. A number of property owners are in favor of the extension and will dedicate ground for the street.

TO OPEN RECRUITING OFFICE.

Seamen J.F. Herbst and A.W. Fox, of the United States navy, are the advance guard of a detail to open a naval recruiting station in Paducah. They are at the St. Nicholas and four others will arrive tonight.

MORT SHELBY HERE.

Mort Shelby of Ballard county, a man well known in this section of the state, was in the city yesterday and located some brasses that had been stolen from him, in Rittoff's store on Second street. The latter refused to give them up and a writ of delivery was taken out before Justice Barber, and Mr. Shelby in this way recovered the goods.

THE FRATERNITY BUILDING.

The Odd Fellows meet tomorrow night and will vote on the proposition to increase the fraternity building to five stories, one of the Masonic lodges having already voted on it and ratified the proposition.

GIGANTIC SENSATION

Florida Has Never Known the Like Before.

Judge Stewart Sent to Jail for Contempt, Says He Will Make it Warm.

A UNIVERSITY INVOLVED

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 22.—The Stetson University scandal and controversy is the greatest sensation ever heard here, and the action taken by John B. Stetson, its founder, in changing his will, causing it to lose $500,000 has added fuel to the flames.

Judge Stewart, his attorney, who is in jail here for refusing to testify from whom he secured the letters that are alleged to incriminate a lady teacher at Stetson and an officer there, is the hero of the hour. He denounces the action of the parties behind the Weightnovel case, saying that it was done to bring him here so that the letters could be secured and kept from the public. He says that the letters will be made public at the proper time, and the bombshell he will then explode will shake the state from center to circumference.

There is a long story behind this. Last year a handsome girl, named Irene Randall, died suddenly. Her friends had an investigation made and criminal malpractice was discovered. A Russian doctor, W. N. Weightnovel, was arrested, and has been in jail since. Among his effects were found, so it was stated, a number of incriminating letters from various parts of the state, and among other letters showing that a lady teacher at Stetson had been in trouble. The board of trustees and Governor Jennings made an investigation, and pronounced the charges false.

In some manner, Judge Stewart secured the letters touching upon Stetson University, and showed them to Mr. Stetson. This angered him, and he gave his attorney carte blanche for a full investigation.

Judge Stewart came here to testify, but refused to be sworn, and was committed to jail for twenty days for contempt of court. The sensation came when Judge Stewart was asked if he still refused to testify. Judge Stewart responded with a caustic remark, in which he introduced the name of Governor Jennings very freely. He said that he had been brought to Tampa at the instigation of Governor Jennings, whose "hirelings and tools" were "trying to cover up the corruption which existed at Stetson University. Such rotteness has never been equaled since the crucifixion of Christ."

If Judge Stewart makes his evidence public, it is said that it will be the greatest sensation ever created in the state. Politicians are figuring upon its effects on Governor Jennings' United States senatorial aspirations.

And the Father is Sure His Son is Saved

Boy Bitten Yesterday at Dawson Springs and Brought Here Today.

Hobart Huddleston, age 5 years, the son of H. Huddleston, a farmer residing near Dawson Springs, Ky., was yesterday morning bitten by a cur dog supposed to have been mad.

The boy was brought to the city last night and this morning the father applied at the boatstore and secured Mr. Frank Mantz's famous madstone and applied it to the boy's face. The dog bit the boy on the right cheek and a painful injury was inflicted. The stone "stuck" and the father is thereby convinced that the dog was mad.

COURT AT HICKMAN.

DONALD SHOT ONCE

Colored Teamster Perhaps Fatally Injured Tobe Williams

The Two Worked for Mr. Cliff Burnett and Quarreled at the Latter's Feed Stable.

DONALD MADE HIS ESCAPE

Tobe Williams, colored, is dangerously wounded, and Henry Donald, colored, is a fugitive from justice, as a result of a shooting affray at Mr. Cliff Burnett's feed stable on Madison street between Fourth and Fifth, formerly used by Mr. Will Utterback, last evening shortly after 6 o'clock.

It seems that Williams claimed he had been imposed on by having to feed the teams driven by Donald and Howard Reeves, all being teamsters in the employ of Mr. Burnett, because the two latter arrived at the stable so late in the morning.

Mr. Burnett reported to them what Williams had said, which angered them. Last evening after coming in for the night, they began discussing what Williams had told Mr. Burnett, and Donald, who did not know Williams was behind the door, called Williams a vile name.

Williams and Mr. Burnett, it seems, were there to have an understanding with the other men and when Donald used the language Williams stepped out from behind the door and said they would "settle the question before the boss."

Vile epithets were exchanged, and before any serious trouble was suspected by Mr. Burnett Donald declared, "you can't call me a s— of a b—," and fired a pistol which he held close to his side, at Williams.

The ball penetrated Williams' stomach below the naval and cut the intestines in seven places. He was taken to his home, 719 South Eighth street, and Drs. Robertson, Hoyer and Hessig attended him.

Donald escaped. He lived back of a house near Eleventh and Madison streets. He was familiarly known as "Shorty" and for several years worked for the Leigh Fruit company. He is the negro with the deep barytone voice who always sang loudly while driving his wagon. It is said of him that he is such an expert driver he could get a wagon in where no other driver in Paducah would venture. He is about thirty years old, and the other man is about the same age.

County Attorney Graves, fearing that Williams would die last night, took his statement of the shooting.

Mr. Cliff Burnett, who witnessed the affair, says it all happened in a few seconds, and that he didn't know any shooting was contemplated until it had been done. Donald was never considered a "bad negro," and had never been in serious trouble here.

One of the attending physicians said:

The shot entered the abdominal cavity and passed through the intestines. The physicians performed an operation on the wounded man, cut the abdomen open and took out all the intestines. An examination showed that the intestines had been punctured seven times and all these holes were sewed up, the intestines replaced and the stomach sewed up. The operation was successful as the patient is this morning resting easy. One of the physicians said this morning that nothing can be told relative to his recovery until the expiration of five days as it will require that long to watch the patient and see all the changes. They have hopes for his recovery but say his chances are slim.

AMERICAN ROASTED TO DEATH.

SPANIARD IN MANILA TELLS OF WITNESSING HOR-RIBLE SIGHT.

Manila, Jan. 22.—At the continuation of the trial of Major Edwin F.
Glenn of the Fifth infantry, charged with unlawfully killing seven prisoners of war in Samar, a Spaniard who was at one time held prisoner by the insurgents testified that while he was confined at the headquarters of Gen. Lukban in Samar, in May of 1900, he saw an American prisoner roasted to death.

The Spaniard said sticks were driven into the man's body and he was slowly turned over the fire until dead. The body was then left to be devoured by hogs. He did not know the man's name, but thought he was an officer.

Several American officers and men were captured or reported missing in Samar in 1900, and the victim is believed to have been one of these.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 22.—What probably would have been a serious railroad accident, resulting in great loss of life, was prevented by two small boys about seven miles beyond Springfield, Tenn. These lads discovered a broken rail and flagged the

it from running on to possible destruc-

SOULE'S

GREENER FIELDS

THE RUSKIN COLONY IS TO BE MOVED SHORTLY.

Trenton, Mo., Jan. 22.—Walter Vrooman has decided to move Ruskin, the Socialist college, to greener fields,
and announced today that he had given $500,000 to endow Midland college, of Dixon, Ill., and will promulgate his university extension ideas at that city.

A large hotel at Glenelg, a suburb of Chicago, is to be converted into a college building, and this will be the new location of Ruskin. Twelve schools in Chicago have joined forces and the students will be granted the privilege of earning their schooling in factories and offices and on a large farm located near the college building at Glenelg.

In moving Ruskin, Mr. Vrooman's only interests here will be two stores out of twelve acquired while the Western co-operation association was in its boom, a few town lots and a farm on which he has erected large barns and cattle sheds and a beautiful home.
Mr. Vrooman announced that his cooperation deal is a failure and that he lost $40,000 on the scheme. He operated in Trenton, Kansas City, Gallatin, St. Joseph, Maysville and a dozen Kansas towns.

LESS ALARM

SMALLPOX SITUATION IN THE COUNTY IS IMPROVING.

The local state health officer has yet gone to Ragland to investigate in person the reported smallpox case, but has been making inquiries and has succeeded in tracing the case to its origin.

He stated this morning that the case originated from the one case that came here from Lexington several months ago. A quarantine has been established and every means to prevent a spread adopted. The scare in that vicinity has somewhat abated, and the residents are not so uneasy since the quarantine has been established. The condition of smallpox patients generally in the county is reported better and rapidly improving. There are but few cases in the county and a firm quarantine has been established to prevent any possible spread.

CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED

KENTUCKY MASONS THINK THE TEMPLE WILL BE SAFE.

At a meeting here of representative Masons from various sections of the state to formulate plans for the administration of the new Masonic Temple and to discuss the progress of the work
a resolution was passed expressing confidence in the building committee and the belief that the structure would be turned over to the grand lodge sound and safe, says yesterday's Louisville Times.

It was decided that a committee of fifteen, to be appointed by John W.
Landrum, the grand master, shall make plans for handling the business interests of the building and suggest a scheme for the organization of a Masonic club to be used for the entertainment of visiting Masons. It is proposed to use a suite of rooms in the Temple for club purposes.

SOME VERSELESS VERSE.

They've made a wireless telegraph,
A horseless carriage, too
And there's no way of telling what
The mind of man can do.
We'll soon be eating henless eggs,
And drinking cowless milk,
And wearing clothes of sheepless wool
Or, mayhap, wormless silk.
How would you like a treeless peach,
Or a piece of hogless pork?
I'd be content if they'd invent
A kind of workless work!
They'll yet make wireless telephones,
Or, maybe, noiseless noise,
And I'm afraid if they keep on They'll yet make dadless boys!

TAUGHT A LESSON.

If the judges of some of our Kentucky courts would do as Judge Roberts did at Mount City, Ill., the other day, there would be less to complain of in the way of dilatoriness. He opened court fully expecting it to last three weeks, but the grand jury indicted only three of the five persons in jail, and these three pleaded guilty and were promptly sentenced. A Metropolis paper says:

"This part of the proceedings being disposed of so quickly, left the lawyers in bad shape. They had expected that the first week would be so nearly occupied that, by agreement among themselves, they had set the second week for hearing of their cases. When therefore, on the third day of the first week they heard the awful voices of the court calling their cases from the docket, they were panic-stricken and explained that they could not go to trial. But the judge went on through the list, and finding no business ready for action, he discharged the juries and adjourned court for the term. In answer to protests he says that he has frequently warned the attorneys that they must have their cases ready for trial when called. Keeping a jury of 24 men idle for three or four days, at an expense of $2 each per day, when the county now has not funds to pay running expenses, is not, he says, good policy. He had the same trouble with the Cairo bar some time back, but all runs smoothly now."

ABOUT GRAFTS.

Speaking of "grafts," it is very commendable in our Democratic contemporaries to inveigh against them. One is readily convinced by their statements that the majority of local Democrats in office are not considered capable of detecting a "graft" when they meet one, or else like to hand them out to their friends, and this is a self-evident fact as witnessed by the brick street graft, the gravel graft, the printing graft and various other kinds of Democratic grafts too numerous to mention from time immemorial. The people have learned, however, that if the Democrats can't or won't protect them from "grafts," there are many in the city who can, and a Republican victory next November will be the result. Any man or set of men in office who can't perceive a graft is not endowed with ordinary intelligence, and ought to resign. When street or any other kind of work is to be done any set of men who cannot tell whether the prices submitted for the improvement are too high or not, should abandon an office they are not competent to fill. To say, "We are not going to make any permanent street improvements in Paducah because we are afraid there is some 'graft' in it," would be conclusively as anything show the unfitness of such men to occupy public office. Paducah's salvation rests with those substantial, progressive, successful business men who are to be found occupying high positions in almost every manufactory and establishment in the city; not with a few broken down or would be politicians with axes to grind, imported yokels on whom the moss is still green, or that class who are afraid of a

"graft" because they don't know one when they see it.

Our Broadway contemporary in a column article enlightens us this morning with a homily on "grafters" in street improvements. This seems a little peculiar in view of the fact that the only important work ever done in Paducah was by a close friend of our contemporary, who did such a bad job that the city refused to pay for it, and who, although an office holder, now refuses to keep faith with the city and the taxpayers by placing the pavements in the repair required by his contract. This same gentleman, although holding public office, has been allowed to run over the city and taxpayers repeatedly without a protest from our esteemed contemporary, the friend of the people, while other officials are raked over the coals unmercifully for much less. Further, the only person now having a street contract with the city, so far as we know, is the gentleman who furnishes the gravel, and who is alleged to be a stockholder in our morning contemporary. It ought therefore to be in a good position to intelligently discuss street "grafts." We fear our contemporary is opposed to anything that savors of progress, and does not hesitate to bat its own friends over the head in order to hold Paducah back. Or perhaps it hopes to frighten off asphalt, brick or other permanent street improvements so its enterprising stockholder can continue to sell the city gravel.

Aguinaldo's little petition to this government for $100,000,000 is certainly an evidence of his extreme modesty. It looks to a man up a tree as if he is being made the cat-paw of some shrewd Yankee schemer. It would seem that the United States government is fully capable of looking after the interests and needs of people of the Philippines without any suggestions from the erstwhile insurgent "statesman." He didn't know enough about what was good for the people not to rebel against this government a short time ago, and he can't be expected to know much more about what's good for them now.

Some of our South American neighbors seem to think the Monroe doctrine is such a good thing it ought to be extended to commerce as well as politics. We don't blame them. It has saved them many a licking, and probably it might save them from bankruptcy occasionally.

Union City, Tenn., wants someone to start a light plant, and offers ten years' exemption from taxation to anyone who will start one. If Paducah's plant were likely to give satisfaction we might try to unload it on Union City, as the people seem to want one pretty bad.

Senator Quay seems to be quite busy for a man who was not long ago described as a political corpse. He put through his omnibus statehood bill yesterday on a test vote.

GOOD CONDITION

CITY JAILER EVITTS DOES GOOD WORK AT THE LOOKUP.

City Jailer Tom Evitts has been overhauling the interior of the lockup department of the city hall, and has it looking neater and cleaner than it has in years. The walls have all been cleaned and given one coat of white wash. This will be followed by another coat later. The cells have all been cleaned and the bedding thoroughly aired. He has cleaned up the room on the northwest corner of the building and is putting in a concrete floor over the brick. This will be used as his office. Mr. Evitts has purchased a small lunch outfit and will serve the night officers, those who go on at midnight, a light lunch every night. This will be free and will no doubt be highly appreciated by the policemen. The lunch outfit has three departments, one for hot water, one for coffee and the other for sandwiches. He will later fix up a large cell for the white women, who will then have a compartment to themselves and will not be crowded into one small cell as heretofore.

TO OPERATE STORES

A Paducah Company to be Incorporated at Once.

Will Have General Merchandise Establishments in Several States.

OFFICERS OF THE CONCERN

A number of Paducah men have become stockholders in a large corporation the object of which is to operate and establish general merchandise stores in Kentucky, Tennessee, and parts of Missouri and Arkansas. It is to be known as the Brower-Fisher company.

Articles of incorporation are being drawn up and will be filed as soon as possible, the capital stock being $10,000. The officers are:

F. M. Fisher, president.
Charles Brower, vice president.
E. J. Paxton, secretary.
Oscar Starks, treasurer.

There are a number of other Paducah men interested in the company. Already there is one large general store at Tiptonville, Tenn., and another establishment at Owl City, between Obion and Tiptonville.

It has not yet been decided where others will be started, but it seems the plan is one that is bound to prove successful, as the stores will be supplied from the general stock, and any of them may be moved at a minimum expense should it prove unprofitable.

It is not known how many stores there will be, but it is probable one will be opened at Nortonville, and others in other parts of Tennessee, Missouri and possibly Arkansas.

LEE AND GRANT

THEIR PORTRAITS TO HANG SIDE BY SIDE IN LINCOLN MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY.

Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 22.—The portrait of Robert E. Lee is to hang side by side that of General Grant in the Lincoln Memorial University at Harrogate, Tenn., just across the Cumberland Gap from here. General O. O. Howard has requested the ladies of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Knoxville to donate to the Grant-Lee hall a picture of General Lee, which he says he desires to hang alongside one of General Grant. The ladies have set about the work and will buy a magnificent painting of the Confederate general. Already they have raised $500 for that purpose. General Grant's picture now hangs alone in the hall.

PROBABLY OVERLOOKED IT.

THESE FELLOWS MUST HAVE FOUND BANKING PROFITABLE.

Jacksonville, Tex., Jan. 22.—United States Marshal Eason today came here and took charge of the Fleager and Sons bank. He found that the cash assets consisted of ten cents. There was no negotiable paper left in the safe. A number of notes which have been sent here for collection are alleged by the men whose names appear thereon to be forgeries. None of the members of the failed firm has been here since last Sunday.

MANY WERE IN PERIL

Bad Negroes Shoot in the Street of Ripley.

One Killed and Another Badly Hurt—Murderer Caught.

Ripley, Tenn., Jan. 22.—This place was thrown into a fever of excitement late yesterday afternoon by a sensational shooting affray on the streets between three negroes and as a result one is dead, one seriously injured and the slayer is in jail.

The difficulty arose in a negro barber shop on South Main street between Ed White and Julius Currin, growing out of an old feud which dates back to last summer. After a heated controversy White left and soon returned with a shotgun, and in close proximity came his father, Wesley White, who it is claimed, came as a peacemaker, rather than to urge a fight.

Young White never re-entered the shop, but it is alleged used language which enraged Currin to action, and he emerged from seclusion and after a few words drew his pistol, a .31-caliber, and shot his adversary in the left temple, inflicting a serious, if not fatal wound. White then dropped his gun and ran, Currin following him with a second discharge, though missing his aim. At this juncture, it is said, Wesley White appeared in defense of his son, and as he stooped for the gun Currin shot him in the neck, the ball coming out at the mouth, from which, after running some fifty yards he fell in the street and expired in a few minutes.

Currin was immediately put under arrest by Marshal Wood and carried to jail and Constable Norvell took in custody Ed White, who was sent home under guard after his wounds had been dressed. He will be placed in jail as soon as his condition permits, should he survive.

The trouble occurred at a time when many were returning home and the streets were full of people and it is a miracle that no innocent pedestrians were injured in the melee.

WED IN TENNESSEE.

PROMINENT RAILROADER MARRIED AT HUNTINGDON YESTERDAY.

Huntingdon, Tenn., Jan. 22.—At the residence of E. B. Teachout, traveling freight agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, in this city, Miss Daisy O'Malley was united in marriage to Will Hall, Rev. Wellborn Mooney officiating. A number of friends were present.

Mr. Hall is an old Huntingdon boy and is now employed as assistant night superintendent in the train dispatcher's office in Nashville. He is quite popular in all circles. Miss O'Malley is one of Huntingdon's most lovely and gifted young ladies. She has made her home at Mr. Teachout's for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall left on the evening train for Nashville, where they will reside.

RUNAWAY COUPLE

GIRLS' BROTHER ASKED THAT THEY BE STOPPED IF POSSIBLE.

A young man named Herzogg called at the city hall this afternoon and stated that his fourteen year old sister, Phronie Herzogg, had eloped with Goettlieb Koerner, aged 21. They all live in the Tyler section of the county above Mechanicsburg, and on account of the girl's age it was desired to prevent the marriage.

Captain Henry Bailey telephoned to Metropolis, Ill., and Paris, Tenn., not to issue the license, and further that this there have been no developments.

FIRE ON THE FORT

German Warships Bombard San Carlos.

An Explosion at the Fort the Last Heard From—Details Lacking.

VENEZUELAN RETURNED FIRE

Maracaibo, Jan. 22.—Three German warships, supposed to be the Panther, Vineta and Falke, began shelling the fort of San Carlos at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The fort returned the fire.

The correspondent of the Associated Press in a rowboat approached to within three miles of the fort at noon. The roar of the guns was terrific. The Panther appeared to be not more than 500 yards from the fort. Her guns were fired every few minutes. The fort could not be seen for the clouds of smoke, but it was plain that the Venezuelan gunners were answering the German fire splendidly and with great rapidity.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon an explosion occurred apparently in the fort, and a cloud of smoke covered part of the ramparts. A number of Indian fishermen were interrupted, fleeing from the vicinity of the fort on their dugout canoes. They reported that the smoke seen was the burning village of San Carlos, which had been shelled by the German ships and was in flames.

The shelling of San Carlos has created much excitement among the German residents of this port, who have protested against the action of the warships.

CIRCUIT COURT

ARGUMENTS BEING HEARD IN THE BELL CASE.

The case of F. G. Rudolph, administrator of Charles Bell, against the Paducah Railway Co. for $20,000 damages for the loss of Bell's life was being argued this afternoon by the attorneys. The evidence was all finished this morning and the attorneys then took the case. A verdict is not expected before night.

In the case of Harry Billings against the Paducah Furniture Co., in which the jury returned a verdict for the defense, a motion and reasons for a new trial were filed and overruled by the court. An appeal was asked and granted.

The damage suits of the Flints and Stephensons against the Illinois Central for various amounts claimed as a result of the accident at Dawson last August are next on the docket in circuit court and witnesses are here, but the cases will hardly be reached for a day or two.

SMALL BLAZE

TOP OF A MATCH IGNITES CLOTHING IN CLOSET AT MR. O. B. STARKS.

A slight blaze at Alderman Oscar Stark's home on Washington street near Fifth this morning about 11 o'clock painfully but not seriously burned Mrs. Stark on the hands, but was extinguished before much damage was done.

Mrs. Starks went to the closet to get some clothing, and in striking a match the head flew off and struck the clothing, igniting it. Mrs. Starks and the servant succeeded in extinguishing the flames before much damage was done, but the loss will be about $40.

Not Inevitable.

Three Irishmen were discussing the merits of the various fighters in a city saloon, and in conclusion one said: "Yes, gentlemen, the Irish are the greatest fighters in the world." After they left the place a little German, who was contentedly sipping his beer and smoking his pipe, listening to what the Irishmen had to say, remarked to the bartender that he did not think the Irish were such great fighters. The bartender said they proved themselves fine fighting men. "Well, I don't think they was any good as fighters," the German stubbornly contended. "Vy only last week ne and my brudder Gus and anudder fellow whipped one of dem."

American Shoes Go Abroad.

The exporting of American shoes is of comparatively recent growth. In 1895 this country exported only $1,000,000 worth of boots and shoes, but for the fiscal year 1901 it sent abroad $5,500,000 worth of boots and shoes, and England and her colonies took $4,400,000 worth of this total.

FOOD VS. DRUGS.

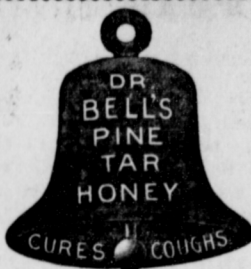

A DRUG MAN'S WISDOM THAT COUNTS.

It's a shrewd man who while in the drug business, learns that although drugs are all right in their place, the use of proper food will make medicine unnecessary in the majority of cases.

"Traveling through various towns," writes a drug salesman from Lancaster, Pa., "drinking different waters to which I was not accustomed, eating strangely prepared meals at irregular hours, I contracted dyspepsia, accompanied by nervousness, loss of sleep and consequently loss of energy. I often had the 'blues,' that indescribably tough feeling which makes one look on the dark side of every picture, and see the shadows of life rather than the substance, imagine the thousand calamities that were never in existence, and so render life almost unbearable. Many thousands of men under the circumstances would have resorted to stimulation from drugs or liquor.

"I happened to read an article on Grape Nuts about a case similar to my own and determined to give the food a trial. It agreed with me from the start and the miserable distress that usually came after eating did not manifest itself when I ate Grape Nuts. I asked for this food at every hotel at which I stopped and made it the principal part of my meal. My stomach soon got so that I could eat any kind of rich food in connection with Grape Nuts without it distressing me. My dyspepsia and nervousness disappeared and life looked bright and happy once more. I am now well, healthy, happy and able to work 16 hours out of the 24 and can sleep like a healthy child the other eight hours.

"My family soon tires of mushy cereals but we never tire of Grape Nuts. The children thrive on it and enjoy it. You may publish this if you think it will encourage others to try Grape Nuts instead of medicine or spirituous remedies that stimulate the system for a time but do not build it up." Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MUCH INTEREST

THE CIRCUIT JUDGESHIP RACE WILL BE AN IMPORTANT ONE.

A great deal of interest is being taken in the race for the Democratic circuit judgeship nomination in McCracken and Marshall counties. Three of those who are mentioned for the nomination decline to state whether they will enter or not, which leaves the impression that they are at least thinking of it.

County Judge Lightfoot and Attorney John G. Miller have already announced and friends of Judge J. W. Bloomfield, Judge Wm. M. Reed and Judge James Campbell are daily urging them to enter the contest for the nomination. Should any of the latter three enter it would be greatly complicated the situation, and should all of them enter, it would make the hottest race ever witnessed in the judicial district for such a nomination.

The Man In Charge

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Burlington sells homeseekers' tickets to the territory East of the Rockies at one fare plus $2.00 round trip. On the same dates one-way settlers' tickets to the same region are sold at a trifle more than half rates.

The Burlington best reaches the corn belt, the wheat belt, the livestock areas of the Louisiana Purchase, and, in connection with the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railroads, forms direct routes to the upper Northwest country through St. Louis or Chicago.

The generous harvest of 1902 in the West is a strong appeal to homeseekers and investors to see the rewards now being gained by farmers, stock raisers and fruit growers, not only in the regions of natural rainfall, but in the spreading irrigated districts of Eastern Colorado, Northwest Nebraska, the North Platte and Big Horn Valleys of Wyoming, also of Idaho, Montana and Washington.

Send for any of our special land publications, all free—"Nebraska," "Black Hills Mining," "North Platte Valley," "Big Horn Basin," "West Nebraska Grazing Country," "The Corn Belt," also of Minnesota, the Dakotas, or the Northwest.

HARD LUCK STORY

A KENTUCKY MAN LOSES IN A BUNCH.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 22—Andrew Brown, a farmer living near Beech Grove, Ky., a few miles across the river from this city, has been pursued by a strange fatality during the last week.

A week ago he lost his wife, who died of pneumonia. Two days after he buried her his only child died of the same disease. Yesterday while he was away from home his house caught fire and was destroyed along with the contents. At the same time his cattle and hogs in the Green river bottoms were drowned by the high water.

Mr. Brown is one of the leading farmers of Henderson county, Ky.

Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first rising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough, and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons, needing a medicine for throat or lung troubles." Price 25c, 50c, $1 bottle. Sold by Du Bois, Kolb and Co.

RAILROAD BANQUET

AGENT TO BE HONORED AT LOUISVILLE.

Invitations have been issued to a farewell banquet to be given at Louisville to Frank B. Bowes by the railroad fraternity. Mr. Bowes, who is well known in Paducah, was formerly general freight agent of the Illinois Central, but a few weeks ago was promoted to the position of Traffic manager of the same road, with headquarters at Chicago.

It is intended to make the banquet an elaborate affair. About 100 guests will be present.

IF UNWELL

Try a 50c bottle of Herbine, notice the improvement speedily effected in your appetite, energy, strength and vigor. Watch how it brightens the spirits, gives freedom from indigestion and debility!

Isaac Story, Ava Mo., writes, Sept. 10, 1900. "I was in bad health, I had stomach trouble for 12 months, also dumb chills. Dr. J. W. Mory prescribed Herbine, it cured me in two weeks. I cannot recommend it too highly, it will do all you claim for it." Sold by DuBois, Kolb and Co.

A POINTED LECTURE.

When Jasper Abbott was on last Saturday morning brought before Judge Vickers to receive sentence he received a lecture from the court that was not only pointed but bristled with timely and wholesome advice. The prisoner was reminded that he now occupied his present unfortunate position from two causes; one from getting beastly drunk and the other from the habit, pursued by a great many young fellows, of sticking a pistol down in his pocket with the expectation of using it if opportunity afforded. The judge said he had often thought the penalty for carrying concealed weapons ought to be made a penitentiary offense because so long as the unlawful habit prevailed no man's life was secure.—Metropolis Journal-Republic.

LOW RATES WEST AND NORTHWEST.

Food and Brains.

The advantage of fasting for intellectual work is being exemplified by a professor of the West Virginia university, who will refrain from eating food for 30 days, during which time he will deliver his customary lectures to the class of the summer quarter. It is the professor's idea that the less food there is in the stomach the more blood can be drawn to the brain, and that its action should be superior in every way to that of a man who is clogged with food. It will be interesting to watch the professor's lectures daily becoming more brilliant while his weight decreases. One can imagine that the farther he gets to infinite wisdom, until, when he arrives at the 30th day of his fast, the thinking world will be simply dazzled by the intellectual outburst. If this is demonstrated, all we need to do to produce a "Thanatopsis" or a "Gray's Elegy" is to take a commonplace poet and place him in a cell for thirty days on a diet of filtered water.

Egyptian Musical Instrument.

The kassar is one of the most ancient of Egyptian musical instruments. It is found represented in monuments antedating the date of Christ by 2,000 years. It consists of a circular body, with a large triangular frame above, from the cross-bar of which five strings pass to the bottom of the frame.

Pretty Children

"We have three children. Before the birth of the last one my wife used four bottles of MOTHER'S FRIEND. If you had the pictures of our children, you could see at a glance that the last one is healthiest, prettiest and finest-looking of them all.
My wife thinks MOTHER'S Friend is the greatest and grandest
remedy in the world for expect-
ant mothers."—
Written by a Kentucky Attorney-at-Law.

MOTHER'S FRIEND prevents nine-tenths of the suffering incident to childbirth. The coming mother's disposition and temper remain unruffled throughout the ordeal, because this relaxing, penetrating liniment relieves the usual distress. A good-natured mother is pretty sure to have a good-natured child.
The patient is kept in a strong, healthy condition, which the child also inherits.
MOTHER'S FRIEND takes a wife through the crisis quickly and almost painlessly. It assists in her rapid recovery, and wards off the dangers that so often follow delivery.

The..... REFORMER

By CHARLES M. SHELTON,
Author of "In His Steps," "Robert Hardy's Seven Days," Etc.

Copyright, 1901, by Charles M. Sheldon

John Gordon paused a moment. He had not the remotest inkling as to Mr.
Marsh's probable action. His experience with his father had given him reason to believe that what Miss Andrews had said about the Golden Rule in business was only too true. Besides, if that experience had not come to him there remained the deadening fact of the tenements themselves, which preached powerfully of the landlord's neglect.

"These tenements, Mr. Marsh, are simply a disgrace to civilization. I do not like to believe that you know the real facts about them, and I have come here today to ask you as a man, with a man's feelings and with a man's powers, to help right some of the dreadful wrongs that humanity suffers in those buildings."

Mr. Marsh did not move a muscle.
There was not a quiver or a change of color on his face to indicate to John Gordon whether he was angry or indifferent or interested, and the first question he asked when John Gordon paused did not reveal to Gordon the man's feelings.

"Why don't you go to the board of health and make a complaint?"

"Will you go with me, Mr. Marsh?
But I don't go there first because you,
as the owner of the property, can, if you will, make most of these wrong conditions right. Take, for example, the double decker, the dumbbell tenement
No. 97. That is simply an instance of the worst form of tenement building in existence. There is nothing to compare with it, not even in the cities of the old world. The testimony of as high an authority as Jacob Rills says, 'The committee after looking in vain throughout the slums of the old world cities for something to compare the double deckers with declared that in their setting the separateness and sacredness of home life were interfered with and evils bred, physical and moral, that conduce to the corruption of the young.' That this is true must be evident, Mr. Marsh, to any man who knows the construction of these houses. And as owner of one of them you must be more or less familiar with their evils, and I plead with you to help remove them as far as possible."

There was a moment of very embarrassing silence, which Mr. Marsh finally broke by saying:

"To be very frank with you, Gordon, I must tell you I never have seen the property you describe."

"Never saw it! And you are the owner?"

"The lots came into my possession just before I went abroad five years ago. My agent was instructed to put up tenements on the lots. The actual work was done while I was away. It certainly does not sound very humane or even businesslike, but the fact is I have never been down to look after the property. Davis is very prompt with his remittances, and the tenements have been good paying investments.
From his specifications and plans as he submitted them from the contractor I understood the buildings were substantial, and they certainly have proved a source of steady and handsome income. You say they are called dumbbell tenements or double deck-ers?"

John Gordon sat still, looking at the man in wonderment mingled with indignation. That a business man with the reputation of Mr. Marsh could actually be guilty of such indifference and neglect was almost beyond belief.
It was not until other events threw light on the subject that Gordon fully understood the shrinking that Mr.
Marsh had from contact with any form of human degradation and misery.

As John Gordon remained silent Mr.
Marsh uttered a short laugh and said
uneasily:

"I don't wonder you think it very queer that I have never been down there. Of course I have trusted Davis implicitly. At the same time I have of necessity been ignorant of conditions.
You regard them as bad?"

"Bad! They are simply beyond any description. It is useless for me to attempt it, Mr. Marsh." Gordon spoke with tremendous earnestness, for there was one word that Marsh had dropped that gave him hope. "You said it did not sound very humane to say you had never seen that property. Will you go with me and look at it? I cannot tell you the facts. If I were to give them to you as they are, I am actually afraid you would not believe me.
There are thousands of business men in this city who do not know the horrors that are congested in and around Bowen street and Long avenue and High lane. But if you have any heart in you you cannot be unmoved by the sight down there. In the name of the suffering babies and little children I beg of you, Mr. Marsh, come with me and see with your own eyes. You lost a little child once, Mr. Marsh. I remember Luella telling me, your first-born son. In the name of that sacred memory will you take an interest in the dying innocent children in your own tenements?"

In his sudden appeal to this long distant but never forgotten experience John Gordon made the one plea that perhaps could have moved Philo Marsh sufficiently to overcome his repugnance to every form of human suffering. He remained silent a moment; then, lifting his eyes to Gordon, he said gravely:

"Very well, I'll go with you. When shall we go?"

"I will suit my time to your convenience. I would like to have you note the conditions by day and night. I can go with you any time."

"Say tomorrow afternoon and night, then."

"Will you take dinner with Miss Andrews at Hope House?" John Gordon ventured to say.

Mr. Marsh hesitated. "Why, yes, I will if it is customary."

"I know Miss Andrews will welcome
you. Tomorrow at 2, if that will suit you, I will meet you here, and we can inspect the tenements, take dinner at 6
and go out again for a look at night.
Thank you."

John Gordon spoke with quiet but deep satisfaction. He had scored an important point. How important he did not know, but it was a vital begining to any influence he might hope to exert over the property owners.

As he started to go out, Mr. Marsh spoke slowly:

"About Luella? There is no prospect of an agreement between you?"

"Not any that I can see."

"I'm sorry." The words were genuine, and John Gordon was touched by them.

"Thank you, Mr. Marsh." He shook hands firmly and went out with a tear in his eye, but it was not the same as that which the interview with his own father had provoked.

"Thank God! He seems to have a heart, at least!" John Gordon exclaimed as he went down into his Ge-henna again.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock the next day
Mr. Marsh and John Gordon were in Bowen street and standing in front of the building on lot 91, known as the "dumbbell tenement," which, according to one famous tenement house commission, "is the one hopeless form of tenement construction. It cannot be well ventilated; it cannot be well lighted; it is not safe in case of fire; direct light is only possible for the rooms at front and rear. The middle rooms must borrow what light they can from dark hallways, the shallow shafts and the rear rooms. Their air must pass through other rooms or tiny shafts, and cannot but be contaminated before it reaches them." (New York tenement commission, 1894.)

John Gordon could not help noticing the shrinking manner of Mr. Marsh.
The man seemed to be under an influence that could not be fear or even compassion. It was rather a mingling of disgust and physical dread.

"Shall we go in?" John Gordon said, looking at his companion curiously.

"Wait a moment," cried Marsh. "I want to look at the street."

The two men stood still, and the older for the first time in his life saw a sight that he had never dreamed could exist in a civilized city that was at least nominally Christian.

It would be impossible to picture Bowen street by means of a photograph. No skill of the photographer or artist could reproduce the scene, and human language is as weak as the brush or camera to tell the story.

The street swarmed with children.
It was midsummer and the day itself was hot, but not one of the hottest of the season. There was not a tree or shrub or flower, not a bit of grass, not even a weed to relieve the dull, sickening look of sun smitten brick and wood and stone.

Wit of Wall Street.

William R. Travers, in his day the wit of Wall street, once summed up the whole stock market situation in one inspired stutter. He was cruising along the coast in his steam yacht when he ran into a fleet of other fine private yachts. The owners of these, recognizing Travers' yacht, put out in their launches to pay him a visit. As they came up the side, one by one, Travers welcomed them in silence, recognizing each as a fellow broker or banker in Wall street. When they had all gathered beside him at the rail he looked out over the blue waters where the trim yacht of each rode at anchor—and there were no other boats besides.

Travers pointed to the fleet.
"T—t—ell me," he said, mournfully,
"wh—wh—where are the c—c—customers' yachts?"

Dumas' Quick Wit.

At the Francis theater in Paris
one evening during the performance of a play by Soumet, a spectator was observed to be slumbering. "Look," said Dumas to the author, who was sitting near him, "you see the effect produced by your tragedy." But the next evening at the same theater it happened that the play was one of Dumas' own, and it happened also that a gentleman in the stalls was overpowered by sleep. Soumet being present noticed this, and, with infinite satisfaction, tapping Dumas on the shoulder and pointing to the offender he said: "Please notice, my dear Dumas, that your play can send people to sleep as well as mine." "Not at all," was the ready answer; "that's our friend of yesterday; he has not woken up yet!"

WAS ASSAULTED

THIS IS WHY MR. ED TERRELL SHOT A COLORED FARM HAND.

Mr. E. C. Terrell, the contractor, stated this morning that the facts in the shooting case reported from his farm in Ballard county are that a young negro named Torian, whose father lives in Rowlandtown, this city, has been employed by him for the past four or five years, and was down on the farm hauling corn when Mr. Terrell was there several days ago.

It seems that two of the colored drivers went for their dinner at twenty minutes to noon, leaving their wagons full of corn, and were ordered to return and unload them before dinner. This made them mad.

After dinner Mr. Terrell and Mr.
Jim Flournoy, who has charge of the farm, went into the room where the negroes were, and in response to a question as to whether or not they had unloaded the wagons Torian insolently said he "wouldn't do a d—d thing" until he had eaten dinner. Mr. Terrell told him there was no use in talking that sassy about anything, and Torian, with a dangerous look in his eye, seized him by the collar and stuck his hand in his pocket, whereupon Mr. Terrell shot him through the fleshy part of the stomach. Mr.
Terrell says he could easily have killed the negro, but only wanted to prevent the latter from killing him.

Torian is now at the home of his father in Rowlandtown and is getting along well.

Mr. Ed Holland and family, who have been living in Georgia, arrived today to again reside here.

Theatrical Notes.

Miss Flora Mae Clark is reported quite ill in Chicago, where her company, "Man to Man," is playing. If she does not improve in a day or two her sister, Miss Eugenia Clark, will leave for her bedside.

The cast engaged to present "The Silver Dagger" is one of the best that has left New York this season.
Every member of the company has been engaged with a view to his or her special fitness for the role essayed. The result is a magnificent performance. Seats on sale tomorrow.

Many patrons of The Kentucky have received marked copies of the Louisville papers reviewing Mrs. Le-Moynes brilliant success there a few days ago in "Among Those Present," which she will play here a week from tomorrow. The critics there, who are always severe, say that her work and that of her company could not have been improved from any standpoint.
Theater-goers here are promised a treat.

"A Royal Slave" was taken from an actual occurrence, the scenes being reproduced from photographs of old Mexico, around which the play was written. The characters of Aguila, El Capitan, a noted bandit, and Juan Alvarez, figure in many parts of Mexican history. The cast has been carefully selected, the members of the company being especially engaged for their respective roles. At The Kentucky tomorrow night. Seats now on sale.

On the ground that nothing is so satisfying in the way of theatrical amusements as a first class comedy well interpreted, Mrs. LeMoynes engagement here at The Kentucky Friday, Jan. 30, in Glen MacDonough's play,
"Among Those Present," should prove a big magnet to all classes of playgoers. There is said to be laughter galore in this piece, together with unforced sentiment and situations of striking dramatic power. The leading role, that of a leader of New York society, is a sympathetic and interesting one, and everywhere Mrs. Le-Moynes has gone this season she has scored a great hit. The well known actress will be supported by a well balanced cast of players.

The company in "The Belle of New York" is a large one and is headed by Mr. Ned Nye, an exceptionally clever comedian, as Ichabod Bronson. Miss Floye Redledge is the pretty and demure Salvation Army lassie, who protests that when she exhorts her auditors to "follow on and the lights of faith they shall see,"
that "they never proceed to follow that light, but always follow me."
Mr. Harry A. Truax is the younger Bronson, and his fine baritone voice is heard to good advantage. Joe Natus is Blinky Bill, Miss Marie della Rosa is the petite Fifi, James Daring continues in his famous role of Kenneth Mugg. Miss Charlotte Uart is the comic opera queen. Miss Toby Craig is the pert Mamie Clancy, and Max Bloom is the polite lunatic. Seats are now selling.

THE CAIRO RAILROAD

THE OTHER PROPOSED ROAD
HAS NOT BEEN ABANDONED.

It is understood that the other proposed railroad from Paducah to Cairo, which was talked of and considered a sure thing before the Illinois Central railroad began its Cairo branch, is not by any means abandoned, and that a meeting of the directors is to be held shortly.

From reports, the intention of the projected road is not solely to secure the business between Paducah and Cairo but to act as the link in a chain that would greatly benefit another road.

COLONEL TILLMAN SILENT.

HAS NOTHING TO SAY ABOUT THE DEATH OF EDITOR
GONZALES.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 22—Colonel James H. Tillman, whose term as lieutenant-governor expired today, and who is in jail charged with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, is silent, so far as the public is concerned. The inquest will be resumed tomorrow.

Today hundreds of Columbians and many from other places visited the grave of Mr. Gonzales in Elmwood cemetery.

John J. McMahon, whose term as state superintendent of education expired today, has published a letter urging the erection of a monument to Mr. Gonzales.
